

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

The Residential Code of Ohio (RCO) requires that construction documents shall be submitted with each Application for approval. A "System Description" submittal is required for all electrical work that is associated with a building permit and/or results in added load. Our review for residential electrical work is limited to reviewing load calculations to determine that the system installed is of adequate size as per the NEC.

More information, submittal forms and examples of load calculations are available at our front counter or by mail or by fax (call Amanda 513-977-4383).

Submittal forms and acceptable automated load calculation worksheets are also available for your use online at www.inspectionbureau.com .
